

ICML 2010
27th International Conference on Machine Learning
21 - 24 June 2010
Haifa, Israel

ICML 2010 invites the submission of engaging papers on substantial, original, and previously unpublished research in all aspects of machine learning. This year, ICML will be held in Haifa, Israel, and will be co-located with the 23rd Conference on Learning Theory (COLT). The ICML conference will include a day of tutorials on June 21 and a joint ICML/COLT workshop day on June 25. Invited speakers include:

Nir Friedman (Hebrew University)
Tom Mitchell (Carnegie Mellon University)
Duncan Watts (Yahoo! Research)

Full paper submissions are due on February 1, 2010 at 11:59pm, Samoa time. There is no separate abstract submission. Information on formatting and electronic submission is available at

<http://www.icml2010.org/>

Important Dates

Submission: February 1, 2010
Notification: April 16, 2010

Haifa overlooks the Mediterranean Sea, and is home to Jews, Muslims, Christians and Baha'is. ICML 2010 excursion activities will include sightseeing of the city of Haifa, Acre and amazing sites in the old city of Jerusalem.

General Chair
Stefan Wrobel
(Fraunhofer IAIS & Universität Bonn)

Program Co-chairs
Johannes Fürnkranz (TU Darmstadt)
Thorsten Joachims (Cornell University)

Local Arrangements Co-chairs:
Shai Fine (IBM Research Haifa)
Dan Pelleg (IBM Research Haifa)